WHAT ARE THE STRONG POINTS OF A BANK?

By J. M. ROBISON, President
First National Bank of Barbourville, Kentucky.

We are often asked the question by persons not engaged in the Banking business as to how they may know whether or not a bank is a strong, safe, bank. This question often occurred to us before we were connected with the banking business.

Every person, whether rich or poor, who makes a deposit in a bank wants to feel sure that he is putting his money in a strong, and safe institution, and in a place where he can get his money at any time he may desire. He feels that it is not safe to keep his money on his person or about his house and puts it into the bank for protection and safety. Now how may he know that the bank of his selection is a safe place for his money?

Every citizen of the community is interested in the banks of the community being perfectly safe. While the stock of a bank is held and owned by private individuals, a banking institution is in the nature of a public institution. A bank cannot fail without doing incalculable injury, not only to its stockholders and depositors, but to the whole community. It therefore stands every citizen of a community in hand to help make the banks safe.

Nearly all nations that have fallen in the centuries past and gone, have been destroyed by internal foes, and not by enemy nations. This is true of banks. The failure of most banks is due to their inside workings and management and not to outside influences. We would therefore say that the first and strongest points in favor of the safety of a bank is to have sober, experienced and careful men at the head of it, and men who have made a success of their own private affairs. Men who are living within their income and getting ahead in the world.

Second:—One of the most fruitful sources for the failure of banks from our observation in the past has been the "overdraft". What we call "overdraft", is for a bank to pay a check drawn on it by a person who has no money in the bank to meet it. For instance Mr. Brown has no money in the bank, he gives checks on the bank, and the bank pays these checks. There is no money in any bank and no fund in any bank with which to pay an "overdraft." When a bank pays an overdraft it must pay it out of the other depositor's money. Anyone can see that is not fair. If Mr. Brown has no money in the bank in the first place he should not give checks on the bank, and if he does give checks and if he does give checks it is not fair to Mr. Jones and other persons who do have money in the bank, for the bank to pay Mr. Brown's checks out of Mr. Jones, and other depositor's money. If you have ten thousand dollars in the bank, it is your money, and the bank should be managed so that you can get your money at any time, and so that no other person can get any part of your money. You can readily see how a bank can fail by paying out money to people when they do not have money in the bank. The overdraft has caused so many banks to fail that the largest as well as the smallest well managed banks of the United States have entirely eliminated the overdraft, and the United States Government which has supervision of all National Banks, recognize the great danger in the "overdraft" and about two years ago the Treasury Department ordered all National Banks of the United States to cut out the "overdraft", and any National Bank that now pays an overdraft does so in direct violation of the orders of the Treasury department and the laws of the United States. The United States Courts have held that the payment of an overdraft by a bank is a misapplication of the funds of a bank.

You can readily see this. You know that the fellow who has no money in the bank has no right to have his checks paid out of money which you have deposited in the bank. The First National Bank of Barbourville will do all it possibly can to accommodate its friends and customers, and to aid the legitimate business and enterprises of the community, but it has eliminated the "overdraft." Its management desires to operate the First National Bank within the law, and so as to remove any element of danger to its depositors and make it perfectly safe, so that every man who has a dollar in the Bank, can get his dollar or dollars, at any time he wants them, and so that the fellow who has no money in the bank cannot get the money out of the other fellow's. Any careful banker will advise you that the overdraft is as element of danger in the bank, and that for a bank to eliminate the overdraft argues strongly for its safety, and it is one of the strongest points by which you can determine that a bank is safe. We have not eliminated the overdraft because we desire to be harsh to any of our customers or friends. Often good men overcheck by mistake. By the new posting machine installed by this bank, any person can at any time learn the amount of the balance that he has in the bank. Many other banks have adopted the same system. If it were for the best interest of the community and the bank to pay overdrafts, we would do so, but we know that it is a violation of law, and not to the best interest of the community, or the bank to do this. We have in the past so managed the First National Bank that every man who has had a dollar in the bank whether in good times or hard times could get his money at any time he wanted it, and we expect to maintain this policy in the future. You can rest assured that no person other than yourself, can check out or draw out the money you have intrusted with us.

There are some several other points to be considered, in determining the safety of a banking institution, and these we will take up and discuss in next week's issue of the Mountain Advocate.

READ P. BLACK

To the Republicans of Knox County:

I am a candidate for the office of Sheriff subject to the will of the people as expressed through the Republican Primary next Aug. 4, 1917.

Since early boyhood it has been my ambition to fill the office of Sheriff of my county, and this opportunity for my friends to thus honor me will be given them before the next regular county primary election for Republican nominations for county offices.

The only speech that I have to make is that I stand upon my public record as an official and my private record as a friend to man, and whether in office or out of office I shall ever be found ready to help those who need help, to comfort those who need comfort. Nominate and elect me Sheriff and you will never have just cause to regret it.

READ P. BLACK.

HON. M. G. HIGNITE

To the Voters of Knox County:

I am being encouraged by a good many people to enter the race for County Attorney, most of you know me and are acquainted with my private and public life. If I enter this race, I will do so at a sacrifice financially as I am making more money than the County Attorney's office will pay, but when I realize that Knox County is now in debt about a quarter of a million dollars, I am aroused to a deep feeling of duty and responsibility. These debts must be paid. The credit and good name of the county must be sustained. You can't guess off your next set of officers, neither can you afford to select any man to give him honor or to provide his bread. If these debts are ever paid, you will have to think seriously, decide slowly and be sure you act wisely in selecting your county officers. It will take the best men you can get, they will have to put forth their best efforts, and still the county will be loaded to its capacity. The County Attorney's office is very important. If you think I am the man, you can let me know. There is plenty of time to consider.

Very respectfully,

G. HIGNITE.

To The Citizens of Knox County.

The announcement of my candidacy for the Republican nomination, for the office of County Attorney, which appeared in the Mountain Advocate of the 22nd of December 1916, was the result of encouragement of solicitation from a great many citizens of the taxpayers of the county and part from my own desire, for opportunity, to render service to people of the county. I am not unmindful of the responsibilities devolving upon the tenant of this office. This is most important of any office, only to the people in general, taxpayers, in particular. Especially, will it be so, for which your next Attorney will be elected. County Attorney must be a representative and for all law abiding citizens of the county, in criminal cases. He must be a legal adviser of all the officers of the county. He must see that official duty is performed by county officers. It is required to be at all meetings of the taxpayers in all the county court and see that all claims are adjusted and the (continued on third page.)

Efficiency In Campaign Management

Prestinably, and in reality, members of the national committee are selected because they are recognized as men of demonstrated party loyalty and political judgment. At their head they need and should have a man of not only deep seated convictions upon party principles but of such general executive ability and political experience as will assure his success as a campaign manager. In the selection of a chairman, there can be no more competent authority than the committeemen themselves. It is to be hoped that hereafter they will perform that duty and relieve the country of the consequences of bad campaign management.

Misunderstood.

There are many people who do not thoroly understand the manner in which a newspaper is run, and where and how it derives its revenue, and in order to make it certain and plain, we want to state that a newspaper charges for everything that it says about any man who is a candidate for any office. The Advocate does not take up the fight between any two candidates, but publishes for the benefit of the candidates and the readers of the paper. The Advocate is not now, nor will it take any side or part in the fight, for, or against any man for any office. The people are the support of the paper and it will without favor or affection publish anything anyone desires to put in, provided it is paid for and is not obscene or scurrilous.

The editor and every employee of the Advocate will no doubt vote for some candidate for every office, that is a personal privilege and all men take that, but we are not going to refuse any man or, are we going to take up a personal fight for or against any man in this political game. The law makes it plain our duty, as well as our own conscience, and we shall treat all alike. If you have something good you want to say we will be glad to have it as a news matter, but political matter is all charged for. So take due notice and be governed accordingly.

To the Voters of Knox County:

It has come to me from some of my friends that I am going the rounds that I am off the track and out of the race for the Nomination for Sheriff of Knox County.

I do not know who was the starter of this yarn, but I want to say to you that it is absolutely incorrect. When I at the request of my friends made up my mind to enter this race, I entered it with no other idea than to run to the final finish, looking back to see just how far my opponents would be behind me. I have been busy ever since I announced, and I want to say that no man ever had better encouragement, and I am sure of election, and why should I not go on and serve my people as sheriff.

I wish to ask you not to pay one bit of attention to such stories as these, for I am in the race to win. I was the first to announce and I will be the last to withdraw from the race. Thanking you in advance for your support, I am

Very truly yours,
JOHN H. LAWSON.

For Superintendent

In the last issue we had the announcement of Mrs. Sarah E. Hughes as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Superintendent of Schools of Knox county subject to the action of the Republicans at the primary to be held August 4th, 1917.

Mrs. Hughes has almost grown up in the school-room, having begun teaching when but 14 years of age. She is well known to every teacher in the County, she having attended all of the County Institutes for many years. She is the daughter of Mr. N. B. Jones, who was raised on Little Richland Creek, and the wife of Hon. John W. Hughes, who also is a teacher, and a very enthusiastic, Republican, and was for some time Chairman of the Republican County Committee. Mrs. Hughes, is also a Republican, having never voted but one time and then voted for the Republican nominee.

Mrs. Hughes is a real live wire when it comes to doing things, she is a leader in the Baptist church, and a member of the Civic league, she is past President of the Rebeccas of the State of Kentucky, and at present Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star, a branch of the Masonic order.

She is a campaigner; a fine speaker, and meets the rich and poor alike. We have no hesitancy to say that she is well qualified in every way for this the most important office in the county.

For Sheriff.

In this issue will be found the announcement of Hon. Read P. Black, for the Republican nomination for the office of Sheriff of Knox County.

We cannot in our feeble use of the English language, begin to convey to you the many good traits of this philanthropic gentleman.

He was educated in Union College, and while he was brought up in the city, he has always cast his lot with the plain country people who he has always loved best, and who have always shown by their acts that they love him. He was reared by a man who was considered wealthy, and had he been like thousands of others, he would have had that haughty spirit, that is so wont by the boys who are reared in the city or town, to the contrary, he has never been known to pass by the humblest without an exchange of kind words and deeds.

When the Spanish war broke out and President McKinley called for young men to come to the colors of his country, Read P. Black was one of the first to respond and after peace had been declared he returned to his old friends the same Read Black that he was before he went to war with the rank of a Lieutenant.

When the Taylor-Gobel trouble came on in Kentucky, he went to Frankfort with his company and was promoted from the rank of a Lieutenant, to that of Captain, returning he again hung the old sword in its place where it hangs today, only waiting until its owner shall hear the call of his country to come to its defense. Mr. Black is a Christian gentleman, a devout member of the church, and a member of many of the leading secret societies.

He has never permitted the beggar to leave his place unfed or unattended; nor has the contribution box ever passed him when he did not respond liberally. He comes to you not claiming credit for that which he has done, because he believes it to be a duty, and he looks upon it as a pleasant duty to help those who may need his assistance. He enters the race with full confidence that the people will stand by him in this race, and that his highest ideal from his earliest childhood will become a reality in being nominated and elected to the high and honorable position he now seeks at the hands of his fellowcitizens.

In this issue we present the name of George W. Hammons, of Girdler, as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff of Knox County. Mr. Hammons is well known all over the county, having served a term as assessor of the county, which he filled with much credit; has been in the cattle business and has met many business men all over the county in a business way.

George is a good citizen of the county, making his home headquarters for all who may be hungry, tired, or thirsty and is always willing for those who may choose to do so, share his hospitality.

We predict that George, as he is generally known by his acquaintance, will make things lively for the boys who may enter the race. He promises, if elected, to make a good and efficient officer, without partiality or special favor to any.

HENRY-STANFILL

One of the prettiest Christmas weddings in Maryville was that of Miss Lavona Henry and Mr. John L. Stanfill, of Coalwood, W. Va., which was solemnized in the presence of the immediate family and only the close friends of the bride at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henry, the parents of the bride, on Christmas day at 5:30 p. m. The home was thrown open and artistically decorated in holly, garlands, laurothaea, mistletoe and Killarney roses. The bride was charming indeed in a dress of brown charmeuse with gold trimmings, shoes and a large picture hat to match. Her only attendant was Miss Nell Howard.

At the appointed hour the bridal party descended the broad staircase to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Adah Howard. The party was met at the foot of the stairs under a double archway of mistletoe by Rev. J. Allen Smith, pastor of the Baptist church of this place, who used the impressive ring ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony a five-course dinner was served after which the party motored to Knoxville.

Mrs. Stanfill is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henry and is one of Maryville's most popular young ladies, as well as being quite a talented musician, having been a music teacher before going to Coalwood where she held the position as domestic science and music teacher in the new high school.

Mr. Stanfill is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stanfill, of Barbourville, Ky., a former student of Kentucky State and is now holding a responsible position in the offices of Geo. L. Carter in the coal fields at Coalwood, where he will take his bride to reside after visiting relatives in Cincinnati and Kentucky.

Maryville regrets exceedingly that Mrs. Stanfill's marriage takes her away but the good wishes of her many friends go with her to her new home. Handsomely engraved cards announcing the Henry-Stanfill wedding will shortly be issued to the friends of the happy couple.

"Cured"

Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

TAKE Cardui The Woman's Tonic

Cardui helps women in time of greatest need, because it contains ingredients which act specifically, yet gently, on the weakened womanly organs. So, if you feel discouraged, blue, out-of-sorts, unable to do your household work, on account of your condition, stop worrying and give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women,—why not you? Try Cardui.

Possible Fatal Shooting In Clay County.

News reached this city yesterday of the possible fatal shooting of Deputy Sheriff Geo. Hall, of Clay Co., by bushwhackers down on Laurel Creek, some five miles below Manchester.

It is thought the victim will die as a result of his wounds, two of which were inflicted by a Winchester rifle it is believed, one bullet lodging in the groin and one passing through one arm.

No definite evidence of the bushwhackers, for it is believed there were more than one, has reached us as we go to press but Sheriff Roach, we learn, had found the position in the woods overlooking the highway from which his Deputy was shot, as indicated by broken brush and footprints, and had hastened to Middlesboro for the blood hounds to try and pick up the trail. A rumor was afloat to-day that later Sheriff Roach had also been shot, but it lacked confirmation.

We had hoped that with the puffing of the "iron horse" through the productive hills and valleys of our neighboring county its citizens, influenced by the peaceful examples of Knox and other flourishing mountain counties, might have turned their attention to the building of schools, churches, factories and good roads and letting bygones be bygones with their horrible sacrifices of human life and distressing cost to the law abiding members of the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Ofa Catron Woodward and little son, J. Walton, of London, are the pleasant visitors to Mrs. Archibald this week.

Sol T. Steele made a trip to Laurel county this week. Dr. Cox of Corbin and Judge Sampson were with him. Dr. Cox says Sol got such a good start talking to the boys about his race for County Attorney while yet in Knox county that he did not stop talking when he crossed the county line.

can bring our affairs so within our grasp that claims allowed within one year will not be carried over to the succeeding year and we will thus have established ourselves upon the plan of "pay as you go." This is correct business. There is no reason why Knox County should not have a strictly business administration, such as that the necessity of selling claims at a discount will be a thing of the past, but such as that will make every claim worth one hundred cents to the dollar, and in which only meritorious claims will be allowed.

I shall be glad indeed, to take an humble part in putting our fiscal affairs upon a sound business basis, and assisting, in carrying them out upon strict business methods. It will not do to say this can not be done, it can be done. It is easy to ascertain the amount of funds to be collected for all purposes each year, and this information will aid the court in keeping expenditures so that they shall not exceed the sums to be collected.

I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of the Republican party. I was born and reared in Knox County. I am nearly twenty-six years of age. In my fifteenth year I passed the examination in the common school course and received a diploma from the proper authorities. At the age of sixteen I entered upon a course in the University of Kentucky at Lexington. I graduated from that institution in my twentieth year and was awarded a diploma which conferred upon me degree of A. B. In May 1913 I was admitted to the bar and thereafter took the required course of study in the Law Department in the University of Michigan and graduated there in June 1916 receiving the Degree of L. L. B.

If I shall be so fortunate as to receive your support and am selected to fill this position it shall be my pleasure to endeavor to repay you by rendering efficient and effective service to the people of our county.

Respt. Your Obedient Servant

ARE WE BLIND TO THE FUTURE?

Drunk with prosperity the people have given four more years power to the Democrats. The peace still continues, but we are already getting a glimpse of "the morning after the night before" in the terrible high cost of living. Millions of people whose incomes have not been fattened by war orders, or by higher wages attributable thereto, or by sale of farm products at inordinate profits, are about to face a winter of price aviation without equal in our history. What appeal does Democratic prosperity make to them?

But there is another phase of the situation: When the war ceases we will lose our war markets, and wages must return to a peace normal. We will no longer be able to unload wage advances onto belligerent purchasers. In addition to that, those who were our customers will become our competitors, under the present tariff-for-less-than-revenue policy; production will be curtailed here, and less will be paid to labor to meet a living cost which will show a discouraging fixity of purpose to stay up.

This gives added reason why we should return to the protective tariff policy at the earliest possible date. The farmer, the manufacturer, and the laborer are making their profits now, while the consumer groans under the weigh of expense added to his family budget, but if the end of the war catches us with the tissue paper tariff bill forced on to the country by President Wilson, industry will be stifled by foreign competition, the laborer will try to make reservations in the Hotel de Gink, and the Fleischmann free bread distributors will be the farmer's best customers. About that time the cost of living may gracefully parachute downward, but of what consequence is lower price if there is no money with which to buy?

The idea that President Wilson will try to end this war does not meet with much credence. The war has been the Democratic party's best friend--Philadelphia Inquirer. And it is one friend which is too husky for Mr. Wilson to bludgeon.

The chief difference between the Stars and Stripes and the suffrage flag that appeared at the Capital is that the former has never been torn down. Washington Herald. It has been torn down several times in Mexico.

An Illinois judge has ruled that "golf is not an amusement." It is President Wilson's method of disposing of a "crisis".

and Montana. To the Republicans must make a net gain of seven.

It is thought that Republicans will succeed Democrats in New Hampshire, New Jersey, Oregon, Illinois, Delaware, and Kansas, without much difficulty. Colorado and Montana would therefore become the battle-ground; and, even if neither of these States should respond to the Republican appeal, the Senate would then be equally divided and Democratic control would depend upon the deciding vote of Vice President Marshall.

In 1920, Oregon, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Nevada, California, Maryland and Colorado will center the Republican senatorial hopes. It is clear that the outcome then will be sharply in favor of the Republicans, even if the contest of two years hence should prove to be a draw.

Danger Signal.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or would you go and help put out the fire? It is much the same with a cough. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing, but should cure the disease that causes the coughing. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Thomas Beeching, Andrews, Indiana, writes: "During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other." Obtainable everywhere.

A SIMPLIFIED Of The Proposed NEW KENTUCKY REVENUE AND TAXATION LAW

Constitutional Amendment. The new law is in conformity with the Amendment to Section 171 of the Constitution authorizing the General Assembly to:

Classify property for taxation.

Fix the rate of taxation on each class.

Designate which classes shall be subject to local taxation.

Permanent. The new law provides for State Tax a permanent State Tax Commission. Commission to carry into effect the provisions and exercise supervision over the entire question of State Taxation. To devote its entire time to the question and assume the duties of the various Boards and Commissions now having authority to assess and tax property for State purposes at Frankfort.

Rate of Taxation. The new law fixes the rate of taxation on all taxable property for State purposes at forty cents on each $100 of assessed value. Instead of fifty-five cents, as at present, on all classes of property excepting deposits in bank, which are to be taxed at ten cents on each $100 for the purpose of encouraging thrift and savings and the circulation of money now sequestered because of excessive taxation. In other respects taxation for State purposes will be absolutely uniform on all classes of property, whether owned by the residents of towns or the country.

Apportionment. The apportionment for each item of expense remains undisturbed, and the General Revenue Fund, the School Fund, the Sinking Fund, the Kentucky University and Road Tax will receive the same exact proportion of the revenue as heretofore.

Real Estate. Real estate will be taxed as at present and according to its locality in the country or town and cities for State purposes at the uniform forty-cent rate in the county, town or tax districts at the local rates set by the local authorities. The value of real estate depends on its location and surrounding improvements and should naturally contribute towards the maintenance of such improvements.

Personal Property. Personal property is segregated into classes and each class will be taxed uniformly, whether owned by the resident of a town or the country, for the purposes for which it is taxed.

Money and Credits. Money in hand, notes, bonds, accounts and shares of stock in foreign corporations having less than twenty-five per cent. of their taxable property in Kentucky will be taxed for State purposes only, at the uniform forty-cent rate in lieu of all other taxation. Shares of stock in Kentucky corporations and foreign corporations having more than twenty-five per cent. of their taxable property in Kentucky are exempt from taxation, as the taxes are paid by the corporations.

Machinery. Farm implements and machinery, the machinery of manufacturing establishments, including raw material and product in course of manufacture, will be taxed for State purposes only at the uniform rate of forty cents in lieu of all other taxation.

Mortgages. Mortgages will be taxed for State purposes only, at the uniform rate of forty cents, and if for a period exceeding three years, a registration fee of twenty-five cents on each $100 will be required in order to secure revenue from foreign money lenders on long-term loans, as this is the only Kentucky tax they would have to pay.

Banks and Trust Companies. Banks and trust companies will be subject to the same taxation as at present, but the State tax will be only forty cents instead of fifty-five, as at present, and the assessment will be made by the permanent Tax Commission instead of the State Board of Valuation. Banks have heretofore been assessed on a different basis of valuation from other property, and is not proposed to disrupt this arrangement.

Bank Deposits. Bank deposits are placed in Deposits. a separate class and depositors will be taxed at the rate of ten cents on each $100 on money deposited September 1, which tax may, however, be paid by the banks for their depositors or by the depositors themselves, and this nominal tax is calculated to largely increase the deposits in banks, as money not so deposited will be subject to a tax rate of forty cents.

Railroads and Public Service Corporations. Railroads and public service corporations will be assessed by the permanent Tax Commission and the taxes on the various classes of property they may own will be as for individuals--forty cents for State purposes only and such local taxes as the local authorities fix on property subject to same. The value of franchises will also be fixed by the State Tax Commission and the new law dispenses with all other State Taxing Boards and taxing privileges of other Commissions at Frankfort.

Merchants. Merchants will be taxed on their real estate and tangible personalty as heretofore, but at the lower State tax rate of forty cents, and such local rates as may be fixed by the local authorities. Notes, accounts and cash in hand will be taxed for State purposes only at the uniform forty-cent rate in lieu of other taxes and bank deposits at ten cents on each $100.

Manufacturers. Manufacturers will be subjected to the payment of State taxes only on their machinery and raw material and product in course of manufacture, notes, accounts, cash in hand and other intangible personalty at the rate of forty cents, and bank deposits at ten cents on each $100. Their real estate will be subject to State and local taxes as at present.

Farmers. Farmers will be subjected to the present taxation on their land and improvements, but the tax rate for State purposes will be forty cents instead of fifty-five. Agricultural implements and machinery will be taxed for State purposes only at the uniform forty-cent rate. Crops grown within the year are exempt from all taxation. Bank deposits will be taxed at ten cents on the hundred dollars, and this tax may be paid by banks. Cash on hand, notes and accounts, taxable bonds and stocks will be taxed for State purposes only at the uniform forty-cent rate.

Livestock. Livestock will be taxed as at present, but the State tax rate will be forty instead of fifty-five cents.

Household Effects. Household effects, including pictures, musical instruments, furniture, and jewelry, will be taxed as at present, but the State tax rate will be forty instead of fifty-five cents, and there will be the permanent exemption of $250 for heads of families.

ALL TAXPAYERS IN FAVOR OF A BETTER TAX LAW SHOULD WRITE TO THE GOVERNOR AND URGE HIM TO CALL A SPECIAL SESSION TO CONSIDER SAME.

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Barbourville people.

Mrs. Bertha Steele, Pitser St., Barbourville, says: "My back was so weak, I could hardly do anything and I felt run down and miserable. My ankles and limbs became swollen and the action of my kidneys was irregular. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Costellow Drug Co. and they helped me, relieving the backaches and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Can Bryan Lead His Party

Mr. Bryan adds his voice to those which are advocating the abolition of the Electoral College. He speaks of the clumsiness of the present system and declares that some plan should be devised by which the voters can vote directly for the President". Perhaps Mr. Bryan can devise that plan. It will, of course be reached through an amendment to the Constitution and by appropriate legislation in Congress afterward. It should involve a Federal definition of the qualification of voters and it should carry a Federal guarantee of the right of all voters, duly qualified, to vote freely and to have their votes counted as cast. In such a modification of the electoral system Mr. Bryan will have the co-operation of his political opponents. But can he carry his own party that far?
